ADMINISTRATION TAX REDUCTION CONSIDERED

MAJOR DETAILS OF PLAN TO BE GIVEN CONGRESS

CHAIRMAN GREEN, IOWA, HAS CONFERENCE AT TREASURY

MEETS SECRETARY MELLON AND OTHER OFFI-CIALS

Washington, June 23.—(UP)—Major details of the administration tax reduction plan to be submitted to congress this fall may be decided this week. Chairman Green, Iowa, of the house ways and means committee which drafts all tax legislation, was here today for a series of conferences with treasury officials, including Secretary Mellon.

Green voiced a warning expecting a tremendous tax reduction this winter. He pointed out that every decrease of one per cent in the corporation income tax will cut $100,000,000 from the surplus. The rate is now 13 1/2 per cent.

Green pointed out that the surplus of last year was made up of revenue from non-recurrent items; he also mentioned the necessity of spending money for flood control and of immediate passage of the second deficiency bill, which was killed by filibuster in the last congress.

"While it is too early yet to state what the surplus would be if no changes were made in the present rates, it does not now look as if it would be large enough to make any such reductions as were made by the last revenue bill," he said. The amount of revenue reduction of the last bill was estimated at $382,000,000.

Los Angeles, June 23.—(UP)—Counsel for Lita Grey Chaplin will move today for an extension of time in which to file her answer to the cross complaint for divorce filed by Charles Spencer Chaplin, it was indicated.

The lengthy and detailed answer and summary will not be filed, it was said, but a petition for additional time will be presented instead. Today was scheduled to be the time limit for filing the reply.

BACK HOME IN DULUTH AFTER A 'SPECTACULAR LIFE'

Duluth, Minn., June 23.—(UP)—Robert Savage, 32, is back in Duluth after an absence of eleven years during which time he led a "spectacular and roaming" life. Last year Savage became "prominent" when he was involved in the Clara Bow kidnapping case at Los Angeles.

Savage came here from New York where he arrived last week from Cape-town, South Africa.

WESTBROOK PEGLER OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS

New York, June 23.—(UP)—Westbrook Pegler, humorist and Chicago sports writer, was resting fairly comfortably today after an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Pegler was taken ill suddenly early yesterday morning. His condition became steadily worse and the operation was decided upon late yesterday.

Highland Light, Mass., June 23.—(UP)—Reports today from the Iamet river coast guard station at Truro said 27 men had been rescued from the Beam Trawler surf just before that craft went down in collision with the freighter Ozark off Truro.

WAGE REDUCTION IN THE MOVING PICTURE FIELD

MOTION PICTURE PRODUCERS AWAIT REACTION TO REQUEST MADE

1,200 EMPLOYEES OF LARGE FIRM
FACE 10 PER CENT
CUT

Hollywood, Cal., June 23.—(UP)—Motion picture producers today awaited reaction to a request of Jesse L. Lasky, executive head of Paramount-Famous-Lasky corporation, that approximately 1,200 employees of the company accept a reduction of 10 per cent in salary.

A "serious situation in the motion picture industry" necessitated the step, Lasky explained in a signed statement.

"Net income from pictures is not sufficient because costs have mounted too high," Lasky said. "We have been spending too much for what we have been receiving in return and we can go on this way no longer. The industry has reached a period of stabilization."

All employees getting larger salaries than $50 a week will be included in the new schedule and some of the more highly paid will be requested to take larger than 10 per cent cuts. The company will appeal to those under contract.

RUSSELL SCOTT VIEWS RESPITE GAINED CALMLY

FIFTH ESCAPE FROM GALLOWS
DOES NOT AFFECT STOIC PRISONER

SUPREME COURT RULES THERE
SHALL BE A SANITY
TRIAL

Chicago, June 23.—(UP)—Over in Cook county jail—which has been his home since late in 1924 save for a brief time in a state hospital—Russell Scott, convicted murderer, today viewed his fifth escape from the gallows somewhat stoically.

The one time Canadian millionaire was far from the debonair salesman who engineered huge land deals in Canada. He wore a straggly mustache. His face was unshaven. His tweed suit was badly in need of pressing. His hair was unkempt. He spoke in monosyllables.

"Do I get a new trial on the charge of murdering Joseph Maurer?" was his question.

When informed that the supreme court yesterday merely had ruled that there should be a new sanity trial to decide, not whether he was guilty, but whether he should be returned to the state hospital at Chester or be hanged, he shrugged his shoulders.

"What is the use of saying anything?" he asked. "Maybe my attorneys will have something to say. Maybe there will be some surprising testimony."

And then Scott begged to be excused and seemed to lose interest in the fact that for the sixth time the law had saved him from death.

Scott was convicted of killing Maurer, a drug store clerk, in a holdup in a drug store in 1924. He was convicted and sentenced to hang. Twice he was given last minute reprieves. Once later he was found insane and sent to the state hospital only to be found sane later and again sentenced to hang. An appeal was filed and the appeal in the supreme court was decided yesterday.

Possibility of An American-Japanese Pact Foreseen, Replacing Anglo-Japanese Treaty

COL. LINDBERGH LEAVES DAYTON FOR WASHINGTON

AVIATOR WEARIES OF CONSTANT
CROWDS AND HERO
WORSHIP

PLANS TO DISCUSS AVIATION
WITH GOVERNMENT'S AIR
SECRETARIES

Dayton, O., June 23.—(UP)—Col. Charles Lindbergh, after spending the night in Dayton as the guest of Orville Wright, the first famous aviator, left here today at 8:40 A. M. for Washington.

Lindbergh, weary of the crowds which have acclaimed him for the last month, was driven secretly to Wilbur Wright Field immediately after breakfast.

There he busied himself a little while about the Curtiss army plane in which he arrived here late yesterday from St. Louis and then taxied down the field and took off to the east, planning to head in almost a straight line for Washington, where he is to confer with army and navy officials.

Dayton crowds which waited long hours yesterday got only a glimpse of the boy hero.

He arrived here after he had been first expected and brought his big Curtiss plane down lightly on the air field while in Dayton huge crowds fretted and waited.

Welcomed by a reception committee, the trans-Atlantic flier balked at being paraded through the city to another welcome and was driven directly to the Wright home there to dine and talk with the man who pioneered the way in the air.

Lindbergh had planned to inspect the government aviation experiment station here and the soldiers' home, but at the last minute he altered his plans and hopped off for Washington.

Harry Knight, one of the backers of the Paris flight, left Wright Field a few minutes ahead of Lindbergh to accompany him on the flight to the capital. He was in a second army plane.

As Lindbergh donned his flying coat here, he told newspaper men that in Washington he would make arrangements as to his future. Although not definitely determined, he said that in all possibility he would go upon the lecture platform. He said the matter of a summer chalet-tour was not definitely decided yet.

Washington, June 23.—Col. Chas. Lindbergh arrived here by plane from Dayton at 11:25 A. M. E. S. T. today.

Greeted by the government's air secretaries, he planned to discuss aviation with them during the day and to consider plans for his personal future.

Over Bolling Field, the trans-Atlantic flier did some stunts to the delight of the small crowd awaiting him.

After greetings by the air secretaries, Lindbergh went to the home of Major H. B. S. Burwell, commander of Bolling Field, before leaving for the city where he and his party were to be guests of Secretary of Commerce Hoover at luncheon.

Lindbergh was attired in his famous blue suit, leather coat, helmet and had a parachute strapped on.

FREIGHTER RAMS, SINKS TRAWLER IN ATLANTIC

ACCIDENT OCCURS IN A DENSE FOG NEAR TRURO,
MASS.

19 MEMBERS OF TRAWLER CREW
PICKED UP, THREE MEN
MISSING

Truro, Mass., June 23.—(UP)—The Clyde line freighter Ozark rammed and sunk the steam trawler Surge in a dense fog about five miles off Truro today.

With a gaping hole in her bow the Ozark went around three quarters of a mile off the Pamet river coast guard station and her position was potentially dangerous.

Only the fact that the sea was calm prevented a heavy loss of life, coast guards said.

The crippled Ozark's plight was reported to coast guard district headquarters at Truro.

The Surge, 300 tons and about 150 feet long, was owned by the Bay State Fishing Company of Boston. She was outbound to the fishing grounds at the time of the crash.

SHOOTS ALLEGED ASSAULTER OF THREE WOMEN

ARCH GILBREATH, OKLAHOMA FARMER, TAKES LAW IN OWN HANDS

IN COURT ROOM FIRES 3 BULLETS
INTO BODY OF B. F.
FOX

Duncan, Okla., June 23.—(UP)—Self avenged as the court room slayer of the man who wronged his daughter, Arch Gilbreath, farmer, sits quietly in the Stephens county jail today awaiting action of less dramatic justice.

Gilbreath took the law in his own hands in district court here yesterday when he walked from a spectator's bench during a recess, advanced beneath the dais and fired three bullets into the body of B. F. Fox, alleged assaulter of three women.

Cox, alleged robber and attack fiend, died beneath his counsel's table, while an almost panic stricken court crowd looked on. Gilbreath, making no statement, handed his weapon to a jailor and surrendered to county officials.

The killing of Cox climaxed a routine procedure in the court of District Judge E. L. Richardson and presaged selection of a jury for the slain man.

The court had announced although it was past adjournment time, he desired continuance of jury selection. He declared a short recess, and spectators began filing from the room through an open door to the side of the rostrum, passing by the counsel tables.

Almost unnoticed, Gilbreath walked in the line of retiring spectators. At a point just behind the accused Cox he stopped, displayed a pistol and before attendants or fellow spectators could intervene, fired.

Cox, who had regarded the preliminaries indifferently while his counsel prepared to enter his plea of insanity, fell beneath the table without a word and was pronounced dead.

CONTINENTAL POLITICAL WRITERS' VIEWS

BELIEVE IT IS OUTGROWTH OF NAVAL DISARMAMENT
PARLEY

A GENEVA NEWSPAPER SPECU-LATES ON CHANCES OF
SUCH ALLIANCE

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, June 23.—Possibility of an American-Japanese alliance, replacing the old Anglo-Japanese alliance, was foreseen by some continental political writers today as the outgrowth of the present naval disarmament conference.

The Geneva newspaper "Le Genevois," speculating on the chances of such an alliance, points out Gibson's activity in seeking the support of the Japanese delegation against the British proposals, especially the one that seeks to reopen the Washington agreement regarding the size and life of ships.

During the negotiations Tuesday between Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegations, and Admiral Saito, the newspaper remarks, Saito expressed willingness to support the American argument against discussing or changing the Washington provisions for capital ships, provided that Japan was granted a 5-5-4 ratio for auxiliary craft, only total tonnage being fixed instead of the size and number of each category of ships as Britain proposes.

It may be recalled that the Japanese yesterday intimated their inability to accept a 5-5-3 ratio regarding cruisers, destroyers and submarines as opposed to battleships and battle cruisers.

The old Anglo-Japanese alliance died with the Washington naval agreement, Great Britain cancelling it because she knew the United States had never liked it.

Washington, June 23.—Government officials here today refused to take seriously reports in the Geneva press of a possible American-Japanese alliance resulting from present arms conference conversations between United States Ambassador Gibson and Japanese Baron Saito.

Traditional American policy opposes all foreign alliances, they pointed out and this government is seeking a naval treaty with both Japan and Britain and not a political understanding with one of them.

Other Geneva reports of serious disagreements between Great Britain and the United States on naval limitation proposals are not supported by Gibson's advices to Washington.

Counterfeiting Commission Convenes
Geneva, June 23.—(UP)—The international counterfeiting commission convened here today under the auspices of the League of Nations.

Three minutes later by a physician. At the shooting, disorder gripped the court room. Some spectators sought protection beneath the benches; others, aware of Gilbreath's intent, stood and watched the affair closely.

Gilbreath then "broke" his weapon, crossed the room to the jailor, handed him the pistol and surrendered. He was placed in jail on the fourth floor of the court house and is held without bail pending action.

Duncan, Okla., June 23.—Waiving all preliminaries on a charge of murder and making $10,000 bond within two minutes after his charging, Arch Gilbreath, Carter, who shot down B. F. Fox, betrayer of his daughter, at district court counsel tables, was released from Stephens county jail today.

Fifteen persons appeared as prospective bondsmen for the father, who took the law in his own hands, as a jury was being selected for the slain man.

Gilbreath waived both arraignment and preliminary hearing.

SEARCH BAY FOR BODY OF DROWNED FLIER

LIEUT. COMMANDER HACTOR
MISSING AT NEWPORT
BEACH, CALIF.

BODY OF COMPANION, CHARLES
ROBBINS, FOUND IN SURF

Newport Beach, Cal., June 23.—(UP)—Search for the body of Lieut. Commander William S. Hactor, U. S. N. one of two men feared drowned when a naval seaplane en route to San Diego crashed into the ocean between here and Laguna Beach, continued today.

The body of a man believed to be Charles Robbins, the other victim of the accident, was found in the surf near here late yesterday. The body answered the descriptions of Robbins forwarded from San Diego, and a belt buckle bore the initial "R".

Destroyers, airplanes, and fishing boats were engaged in searching the sea for the body of Hactor.

Lieutenant Thomas G. Fisher, pilot and sole survivor of the unfortunate craft, left for San Diego before the body was discovered.

Fisher was found unconscious on the beach three miles south of Laguna Beach. He had to swim more than nine miles to reach shore after the crash.

2 PATROLMEN AND A BANDIT KILLED IN FIGHT

RUNNING GUN BATTLE TAKES PLACE IN CHICAGO RESI-DENTIAL SECTION

MORE THAN SCORE OF SHOTS FIRED BY THE COMBATANTS

Chicago, June 23.—(UP)—Two patrolmen and a motor car bandit were killed in a running gun battle early today in one of the northwestern residential sections.

More than a score of shots were fired in the short lived shooting affray.

The two patrolmen accosted the bandit, and a girl accompanying him as they drove along the street in a motor car which had been stolen earlier in the night. The robber opened fire and it was returned by the two officers.

All three men were killed but the girl companion of the bandits escaped.

The patrolmen killed were: Sgt. Thomas Kehoe.

Detective James Farley.

The bandit's body had not been identified early today.

Early last night, according to police reports, the bandit forced Emil Svendian to surrender his Cadillac motor car. A few hours later Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cooper reported the bandit approached in the stolen Cadillac and forced them to surrender their new motor car, abandoning the one he had previously stolen.

Police were sent into the residential sections to search for the motor thief.

Kehoe and Farley came upon the robber and his woman companion and leaped from their motor car shouting "halt."

The bandit guided the stolen motor car to the curbing then started firing. Kehoe dropped to the pavement at the first shot and Farley fell a few seconds later. Although both officers were fatally wounded they continued firing.

The two patrolmen were taken to

LANSING MEN ASK FOR AN ARMISTICE

MEN HAVE HELD OUT IN INNER WORKINGS OF MINE

MUTINIED IN PROTEST AGAINST DECISION BARRING
CIGARETTES

Lansing, Kans., June 23.—(UP)—Hunger is getting in its work in the mine shaft at the Lansing state prison, and the men have telephoned a request to the warden's office that a conference be held this afternoon. Officials expressed the belief the men were weakening because of the fact they have had but little food in the last two days.

The request was granted and arrangements were made for a representative of the prisoners to come to the surface and discuss terms with the authorities.

It was the second telephonic communication with the prisoners who had spent 51 hours in the mine, mutinying in protest against a decision that they could not receive cigarettes from outside the prison walls.

Lansing, Kans., June 23.—(UP)—With a record established for self-imprisonment at the Kansas state penitentiary already established 323 prisoners of the institution today continued to hold their posts beneath the ground, with no effort made to establish arbitration means.

The men have held themselves prisoners more than forty-two hours, four hours longer than the previous record established at the first mutiny of the sort in 1900. It is the fourth occurrence of the nature in Lansing's history.

The fourteen guards held prisoner by the men, who Tuesday refused to come up from the mine because they were not permitted to receive cigarettes, are "all right," it was said when first communication was established late yesterday.

Prison authorities, who are pursuing an announced intention of permitting things to shape themselves and who do not intend acceding to the men's demands, have been trying since the mutiny first started Tuesday to get some of the prisoners to answer the telephone in the mine.

Yesterday, the telephone in the office of Peter Russell, superintendent of the mine, rang and Russell talked briefly with a prisoner, unidentified. The man said he wanted to talk to his wife and assured the superintendent that all was well with the guards.

Belief that the men could hold out for another day was expressed when it became known there was a quantity of oats for the mine animals available in the mine. This could be cooked and would supply the men with food for some time, it was said.

However, it is not definitely known that there are facilities for cooking the oats. Speculation as to the length of time the men would continue to hold to their cattle cry of "No cigarettes no coal," and refuse to come to the surface, brought forth various opinions today.

Some believed the men would give in before noon today, while others think they will hold out possibly for twenty-four hours longer. It is, however, only a question of time before the men will be forced to come to the surface and surrender, it was reiterated today.

11 MEN INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Berkeley, Calif., June 23.—(UP)—Eleven or more men were injured, at least two seriously, in a gas explosion in the Claremont east utilities tunnel under construction near here today.

a hospital and were dead when they arrived.

Other officers had arrived at the scene of the shooting and they stumbled across the bandit's body several hundred feet from where the stolen motor car had been hastily parked.

The girl was nowhere to be seen and residents in the district said they had seen her leap from the car and run away from the shooting.

MISSINGTruro, Mass., June 23.—(UP)—
The Clyde line freighter Ozark rammed and sunk the steam trawler Surge in a dense fog about five miles off Truro today.With a gaping hole in her bow the Ozark went aground three quarters of a mile off the Pamet river coast guard station and her position was potentially dangerous.Only the fact that the sea was calm prevented a heavy loss of life, coast guards said.The crippled Ozark's plight was reported to coast guard district headquarters at Truro.The Surge, 300 tons and about 150 feet long, was owned by the Bay
State Fishing Company of Boston.
She was outbound to the fishing grounds at the time of the crash.SHOOTS ALLEGED

FOXDuncan, Okla., June 23.—(UP)— Self avenged as the court room slayer of the man who wronged his daughter, Arch Gilbreath, farmer, sits quietly in the Stephens county jail today awaiting action of less dramatic justice.Gilbreath took the law in his own hands in district court here yesterday when he walked from a spectator's bench during a recess, advanced beneath the dais and fired three bullets into the body of B. F. Fox, alleged assaulter of three women.Cox, alleged robber and attack fiend, died beneath his counsel's table, while an almost panic stricken court crowd looked on. Gilbreath, making no statement, handed his weapon to a jailor and surrendered to county officials.The killing of Cox climaxed a routine procedure in the court of District Judge E. L. Richardson and pragmatically selection of a jury for the slain man.The court had announced although it was past adjournment time, he desired continuance of jury selection.
He declared a short recess, and spectators began filing from the room through an open door to the side of the rostrum, passing by the counsel tables.Almost unnoticed, Gilbreath walked in the line of retiring spectators.
At a point just behind the accused Cox he stopped, displayed a pistol and before attendants or fellow spectators could intervene, fired.Cox, who had regarded the preliminaries indifferently while his counsel prepared to enter his plea of insanity, fell beneath the table with-

POLITICAL WRITERS' VIEWSBELIEVE IT IS OUTGROWTH OF
NAVAL DISARMAMENT
PARLEYA GENEVA NEWSPAPER SPECU-LATES ON CHANCES OF
SUCH ALLIANCEBy HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent)Geneva, June 23.—Possibility of an American-Japanese alliance, replacing the old Anglo-Japanese alliance, was foreseen by some continental political writers today as the outgrowth of the present naval disarmament conference.The Geneva newspaper "Le Genevois," speculating on the chances of such an alliance, points out Gibson's activity in seeking the support of the Japanese delegation against the British proposals, especially the one that seeks to reopen the Washington agreement regarding the size and life of ships.During the negotiations Tuesday between Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegations, and Admiral Saito, the newspaper remarks, Saito expressed willingness to support the American argument against discussing or changing the Washington provisions for capital ships, provided that Japan was granted a 5-5-4 ratio for auxiliary craft, only total tonnage being fixed instead of the size and number of each category of ships as Britain proposes.It may be recalled that the Japanese yesterday intimated their inability to accept a 5-5-3 ratio regarding cruisers, destroyers and submarines as opposed to battleships and battle cruisers.The old Anglo-Japanese alliance died with the Washington naval agreement, Great Britain cancelling it because she knew the United States had never liked it.Washington, June 23.—Government officials here today refused to take seriously reports in the Geneva press of a possible American-Japanese alliance resulting from present arms conference conversations between United States Ambassador Gibson and Japanese Baron Saito.Traditional American policy opposes all foreign alliances, they pointed out and this government is seeking a naval treaty with both Japan and Britain and not a political understanding with one of them.Other Geneva reports of serious disagreements between Great Britain and the United States on naval limitation proposals are not supported by Gibson's advices to Washington.

Counterfeiting Commission Convenes

Geneva, June 23.—(UP)—The international counterfeiting commission convened here today under the ausices of the League of Nations.Three minutes later by a physician.
At the shooting, disorder gripped the court room. Some spectators sought protection beneath the benches; others, aware of Gilbreath's intent, stood and watched the affair closely.Gilbreath then "broke" his weapon, crossed the room to the jailor, handed him the pistol and surrendered. He was placed in jail on the fourth floor of the court house and is held without bail pending action.Duncan, Okla., June 23.—Waiving ing, Arch Gilbreath, Carter, who shot down B. F. Cox, 28, betrayer of his daughter, at district court counsel tables, was released from Stephens county jail today.Fifteen persons appeared as presentive bondsmen for the father, who took the law in his own hands, as a jury was being selected for the slain man.Gilbreath waived both arraignment and preliminary hearing.BIG GLASS BEER

(UP)—Search for the body of Lieut.
Commander William S. Hactor, U.
S. N. one of two men feared drowned when a naval seaplane en route to San Diego crashed into the ocean between here and Laguna Beach, continued today.The body of a man believed to be Charles Robbins, the other victim of the accident, was found in the surf near here late yesterday. The body answered the descriptions of Robbins forwarded from San Diego, and a belt buckle bore the initial "R".
Destroyers, airplanes, and fishing boats were engaged in searching the sea for the body of Hactor.Lieutenant Thomas G. Fisher, pilot and sole survivor of the unfortunate craft, left for San Diego before the body was discovered.Fisher was found unconscious on the beach three miles south of Laguna Beach. He had to swim more than nine miles to reach shore after the crash.2 PATROLMEN AND A BANDIT
KILLED IN FIGHTRUNNING GUN BATTLE TAKES
PLACE IN CHICAGO RESI-DENTIAL SECTIONMORE THAN SCORE OF SHOTS
FIRED BY THE COMBATANTSChicago, June 23.—(UP)—Two patrolmen and a motor car bandit were killed in a running gun battle early today in one of the northwestern residential sections.More than a score of shots were fired in the short lived shooting affray.The two patrolmen accosted the bandit, and a girl accompanying him as they drove along the street in a motor car which had been stolen earlier in the night. The robber opened fire and it was returned by the two officers.All three men were killed but the girl companion of the bandits escaped.The patrolmen killed were:
Sgt. Thomas Kehoe.

Detective James Farley.

The bandit's body had not been identified early today.Early last night, according to police reports, the bandit forced Emil Svendian to surrender his Cadillac motor car. A few hours later Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cooper reported the bandit approached in the stolen Cadillac and forced them to surrender their new motor car, abandoning the one he had previously stolen.Police were sent into the residential sections to search for the motor thief.Kehoe and Farley came upon the robber and his woman companion and leaped from their motor car shouting "halt."The bandit guided the stolen motor car to the curbing then started firing. Kehoe dropped to the pavement at the first shot and Farley fell a few seconds later. Although both officers were fatally wounded they continued firing.

The two patrolmen were taken to

LANSING MEN
ASK FOR AN ARMISTICEMEN HAVE HELD OUT IN INNER WORKINGS OF MINEMUTINIED IN PROTEST AGAINST
DECISION BARRING
CIGARETSLansing, Kans., June 23.—(UP)— Hunger is getting in its work in the mine shaft at the Lansing state prison, and the men have telephoned a request to the warden's office that a conference be held this afternoon.
Officials expressed the belief the men were weakening because of the fact they have had but little food in the last two days.The request was granted and arrangements were made for a representative of the prisoners to come to the surface and discuss terms with the authorities.It was the second telephonic communication with the prisoners who had spent 51 hours in the mine, mu-tining in protest against a decision that they could not receive cigars from outside the prison walls.Lansing, Kans., June 23.—(UP)— With a record established for self-imprisonment at the Kansas state penitentiary already established 323 prisoners of the institution today continued to hold their posts beneath the ground, with no effort made to establish arbitration means.The men have held themselves prisoners more than forty-two hours, four hours longer than the previous record established at the first mutiny of the sort in 1900. It is the fourth occurrence of the nature in Lansing's history.The fourteen guards held prisoner by the men, who Tuesday refused to come up from the mine because they were not permitted to receive cigarettes, are "all right," it was said when first communication was established late yesterday.Prison authorities, who are pursuing an announced intention of permitting things to shape themselves and who do not intend according to the men's demands, have been trying since the mutiny first started Tuesday to get some of the prisoners to answer the telephone in the mine.Yesterday, the telephone in the office of Peter Russell, superintendent of the mine, rang and Russell talked briefly with a prisoner, unidentified.
The man said he wanted to talk to his wife and assured the superintendent that all was well with the guards.Belief that the men could hold out for another day was expressed when it became known there was a quantity of oats for the mine animals available in the mine. This could be cooked and would supply the men with food for some time, it was said.However, it is not definitely known that there are facilities for cooking the oats. Speculation as to the length of time the men would continue to hold to their cattle cry of "No cigarettes no coal," and refuse to come to the surface, brought forth various opinions today.Some believed the men would give in before noon today, while others think they will hold out possibly for twenty-four hours longer. It is, however, only a question of time before the men will be forced to come to the surface and surrender. It was reiterated today.11 MEN INJURED
IN GAS EXPLOSIONBerkeley, Calif., June 23.—(UP)— Eleven or more men were injured, at least two seriously, in a gas explosion in the Claremont east utilities tunnel under construction near here today.A hospital and were dead when they arrived.Other officers had arrived at the scene of the shooting and they stumbled across the bandit's body several hundred feet from where the stolen motor car had been hastily parked.The girl was nowhere to be seen and residents in the district said they had seen her leap from the car and run away from the shooting.

The truth is that all of us have more ability than we use or need for moderate success. We are not held back by lack of intelligence, but by lack of application.

This would certainly be a rich country if we all made as much money as the neighbors think we do. Or as we would like to have them think we do.

The addition of a new porch or an extra wing, the removal of a partition, a little roof alteration—will make a big difference in the value of your home, not to mention the added comfort and enjoyment it will give you and your family. We'll be glad to help you with your plans.

Lots of people we know always refer to it as the "Government Post Office." Do you happen to know of any other kind? If anyone else starts one here in Brainerd let's boycott him.

SALADS SPARE THE COOK IN HOT WEATHER

(Editor's Note: You'll get many hot weather cooking tips from this article—one of a series which 6 famous cooks are contributing to this paper.)

Of course we're hungry, even though the weather is hot! But we don't need the heavy foods so essential on cooler days. And there is no reason for any woman to wear herself out in the summertime, laboring over the stove.

MRS. KATE B. VAUGHN

Spare Yourself

Do as much of the preparation and cooking as possible in the early morning hours. If you must bake, do it just once a week. Don't light the oven every day.

And remember that salads, dainty or substantial, are a boon to cooks during hot weather.

Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, director of household economics, Los Angeles Evening Express, suggests a simple cabbage and a carrot salad.

Use Cabbage and Carrots

Grate three raw carrots. Chop enough cabbage to make one cup. Chop one pimiento and green pepper. Mix these ingredients with mayonnaise and put in icebox to chill. Serve on lettuce leaves.

If preferred, this salad may be served with French dressing.

With Cranberries

This is a cooling dish—cranberry salad. Here's Mrs. Vaughn's own recipe.

- 1 pound cranberries
- 2 tablespoons gelatine
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup nut meats
- 1 cup celery
- 1 cup mayonnaise

Boil sugar and water, add cranberries and boil until they pop. Add gelatine, softened in 2 tablespoons water. Cool and add lemon juice, nut meats and celery. Mold or serve in spoonfuls on lettuce leaf with sweet mayonnaise.

There is a big hot weather advantage in cooking with oil. You use only as many burners as are absolutely necessary. Then, too, in the best oil stoves the burners come in a row. There is no reaching across a hot fire.

Two Fruits

Another simple salad, suggested by Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition specialist at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, is made of dates and apples.

- 2 cups diced apples
- 1 cup cut dates
- 1/4 cup Golden Dressing

Peel the apples and cut into one-half inch cubes. Marinate with the juice of a lemon to prevent discoloration. Put the dates into cold water. Remove the stones and cut each date into about four pieces. Pour boiling water over them. Chill thoroughly. Mix apples and dates and stir in the Golden Dressing. Garnish with lettuce or nasturtium leaves.

Golden Dressing

- 1/2 cup pineapple, apple or other light colored fruit juice
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs

Beat the eggs sufficiently to blend the yolk and the white, but not until foamy. Add the juice and the sugar. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Set in cold water to cool.

One of the biggest advantages of cooking with an oil stove is the fact that it can be moved to the coolest spot. Cook on the back porch, the summer kitchen, wherever it's most convenient. No hoses or piping to connect. Take the stove wherever you want it.

Lettuce and Bacon

Boiled or mashed potatoes, with "wilted" lettuce, or lettuce salad with bacon dressing, make a good luncheon with a dessert and beverage.

This is the recipe used by Miss Lucy G. Allen, head of the Boston School of Cookery.

Wash lettuce and set away to chill. At lunch time make the bacon dressing. Dice four or five very thin slices of bacon and fry until crisp. Mix one-half teaspoonful mustard, one teaspoonful sugar, and add to one egg slightly beaten.

Then add one-third cup of vinegar which should be very weak. (Too strong vinegar will coagulate the egg and give a curdled appearance to the dressing.) Pour this into the pan containing bacon and fat. Have a low flame and stir rapidly until the mixture is the consistency of heavy cream. Pour over lettuce.

Make Your Own Combinations

Instead of warming up leftover meats, dice and combine with cold cubed potatoes, peas and salad dressing. This makes a luncheon dish in itself. Other combinations will no doubt occur to you.

TEACHES NATURE STUDY

Herb Joesting, the "Owatonna Pile Driver," idol of the middle western football world and member of the All-American eleven, was in Brainerd yesterday while enroute to Camp

Lincoln at Hubert, where he will forget the gridiron for a while and teach nature study and forestry for the next eight weeks.

"Herb" would attract attention anywhere but yesterday it was difficult to decide which was the more interesting, the player or his Ford.

The conveyance has won nearly as much fame as its owner, having copped first prize in the Minneapolis Journal movie contest. Pictures, movies and stories have done their bit to bring the antiquated Ford fame, and there has been much rivalry at camp among the youngsters who are speculating as to who will be lucky enough to get "the first ride."

Dubbed "The Spirit of St. Louis," the ante-diluvian model carried a half dozen spare tires, navigated on dishpan wheels and despite missing floor boards and a gaily colored calico top, managed to give the same performance as its worthy sisters. Marks of battle were evident on the body of the car which was plastered with gory chicken feathers, reminders of feathery flocks which encountered the fast and furious pace of the car enroute.

EMPLOY RELIEF OPERATORS

Increased Business in Telegrams Call for Additional Help at Western Union

Increased tourist and convention business has necessitated the addition of two relief operators at the Western Union Telegraph office in Brainerd. The men are: T. W. Cushman, Bemidji; A. L. Kachler, Sleepy Eye, Minn.

The relief operators will be on duty all this week to take care of the flow of telegram messages which have been coming in, in addition to those received from the Washburn-Crosby convention at Breezy Point now in session. Relief operators will be employed at intervals throughout the rush season this summer.

BUSH LEAVES THE BIG LEAGUE

OUR old friend, Joe Bullet Bush, has said goodbye to the big leagues. Admiringly we have followed Joe from the sandlots to Missoula, from Missoula to Connie Mack and then on through five world series and now comes the farewell to the big show.

Bush gave Brainerd unlimited advertising. In his first world series when he faced the Giants in a crucial test and showed his iron nerve, his exploit was written up from coast to coast and Brainerd secured worldwide mention. In fact, Little Falls was always a bit jealous because we had a Joe Bullet Bush, but that score has been evened since they succeeded to Lindbergh.

In the "Sport of the Times", written by John Kieran of New York, the latter comments under the heading, "A Sad Farewell": "Bullet Joe Bush, turned loose by the Pirates, said farewell to his team-mates with sighs of deep regret."

"Two great teams I've been on are the Yankees and the Pirates," said Joe, "they are wonderful ball clubs too, but that isn't what I mean. I'm talking about the ace-high birds who'll play with you and fight for you from the drop of the hat. I remember Freddy Hofmann cried when he left the Yankees. I don't blame him. I knew just how he felt. I'm out now, but I'm for these Pittsburgh boys till they close the parks. I hope they win by eighteen games."

"As pleasing a valedictory speech as any player ever made."

Out at New York H. P. Dunn has a friend, C. H. Post, who constantly sends him clippings concerning Bush and the last one bore the comment: "Between Lindbergh and Joe, Minnesota is much on the map. It's pleasant to read the nice things said about our friend Bush."

A New York paper carries a story by Joe Vila concerning Bush and states in very comprehensive manner the career of our distinguished Brainerd boy.

Bullet Joe Bush, once rated among the best right handed pitchers in the American League, has passed out of fast company after nearly fifteen years of hard work. He received his unconditional release from the Pirates on Tuesday after all other major league clubs had waived claim to his services. Under the ten year rule he couldn't be sold to a minor league club.

Now thirty-three years old, Bush retires with a splendid record. During thirteen consecutive seasons in the American League he won 196 games and lost 158. In spite of a lame arm last year he scored six victories against as many defeats as one of the Pittsburgh boxmen. Bush took part in five world series, pitching for the Athletics in 1913 and 1914, the Red Sox in 1918 and the Yankees in 1922 and 1923.

The Athletics won four out of five games with the Giants in the 1913 world series and Bush, then only nineteen, received some of the credit. Connie Mack's stars were Bender and Plank. Bender pitched against the Giants in the first game and lost, 6 to 4. Plank shut out McGraw's pennant winners in the second, 3 to 0. Mack had to use his young speed merchant in the third, though fearful of the result. But Bush let the Giants down with five scattered hits and beat them 8 to 2.

Bush's iron nerve on that occasion enabled Bender and Plank to rest up for the fourth and fifth games, which they won, 6 to 5 and 3 to 1. Had "Bullet Joe" fallen down the Giants might have captured the title inasmuch as Mack's pitching plans would have been upset in a dangerous manner.

In the 1914 series with the Boston Braves, who won four straight games, Bush officiated in the third battle. He was in magnificent form and allowed nine hits in twelve innings, the score being 4 to 3 against the Athletics.

When Mack broke up his great team he retained Bush until the fall of 1917, the speed merchant winning thirty-one games and losing fifty-six for the American League tail enders in three campaigns. Bush was traded to the Red Sox, for whom he pitched in 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921.

Facing the Chicago Cubs in the second game of the 1918 world series, Bush was beaten, 3 to 1. The Red Sox sold "Bullet Joe" to the Yankees for the season of 1922 and he proved his worth by hanging up twenty-six victories against only six defeats, his best record.

Bush tackled the Giants in the first world series game that year. He pitched unrelenting ball up to the eighth inning when four consecutive base hits yielded two runs and forced his retirement in favor of Hoyt. The Giants trimmed Bush again, 5 to 3, in the fifth game, the Yankees making but five hits off Arthur Nehf.

After the Giants had knocked out Hoyt in the first contest of the 1923 world series, Bush pitched the last six and two-third innings, being touched up for four hits and two runs, McGraw's men winning 5 to 4. The Giants won the third game, 1 to 0, Bush working in the ninth inning.

During three years with the Yankees Bush's record was sixty-two games won and thirty-eight lost. His arm bothered him considerably in 1924 and Miller Huggins decided to trade him, with Gaston and Gild, to the St. Louis Browns for Urban Shocker before the 1925 race started.

For the Browns "Bullet Joe" pitched with fair results, but finally was released to the Senators. Last summer the Pirates claimed Bush on waivers. By that time the once famous pitcher was nearly through, but the Pittsburgh club, hoping for his recovery, retained him until this season, when his namesake, "Donie" Bush, the Pirates' new leader, concluded that he had lost his skill forever.

AMERICA MEETS ITS OBLIGATIONS TO FLOOD VICTIMS

THE achievements in relief work undertaken and still in progress in the flood area of the South will furnish an inspiring addition to this country's record in humanitarianism. From the moment the peril of the flood became imminent Red Cross workers were on hand, and in steadily increased numbers they continued their services as the needs demanded. The American public generously supplied the funds required by the organization to carry forward its work. Near the flooded district, and even within it, people contributed most liberally—food, clothing, shelter and money—for the relief of the suffering.

As the flood waters have receded the danger of epidemics or widespread disease has been anticipated. It has aroused concern here and there. Yet the assurance is given that this situation has been taken thoroughly in hand, and no apprehension need be felt. The United States public health service issued a statement a few days ago to the effect that the health conditions in the flood area were under complete control. One-tenth of the entire public health service had been dispatched to the flood region, and co-operation had been established with state and local health agencies. The Rockefeller Foundation also had agreed to assist, both with funds and workers, while the Red Cross was lending its aid in the same fashion.

Not only in the relief of suffering and in disease control, but in provision of financial assistance for rehabilitation this country has been discharging the obligations laid upon it by one of its heaviest disasters.—Kansas City Times.

ELIMINATING weeds is a subject that appeals to the farmer with his myriad of weeds to contend with and the city man, too, whose garden is sometimes nearly choked by weeds and whose lawn harbors dandelions and quack grass.

It is all very interesting to talk about weeds and to hold meetings on the subject, but what is needed is actual demonstration work.

The White Sox and the St. Louis Browns broke even in a twin bill. George Connally's error in judgment in the first game cost the White Sox a victory, a ten inning contest. Connally tossed a runner out at first while a runner crossed the plate to score. In the second game Al Thomas pitched his 11th victory of the year. The Browns won the first, 3 to 2, and Chicago the second, 8 to 5.

Louisville, Ky.—Stepping on the toes of the Louisville Colonels for a double victory, 4 to 2, and 9 to 8, Kansas City took second place in the American Association. Each game was won in the seventh inning when the Blues made all their runs. Cross and Hauser hit homers.

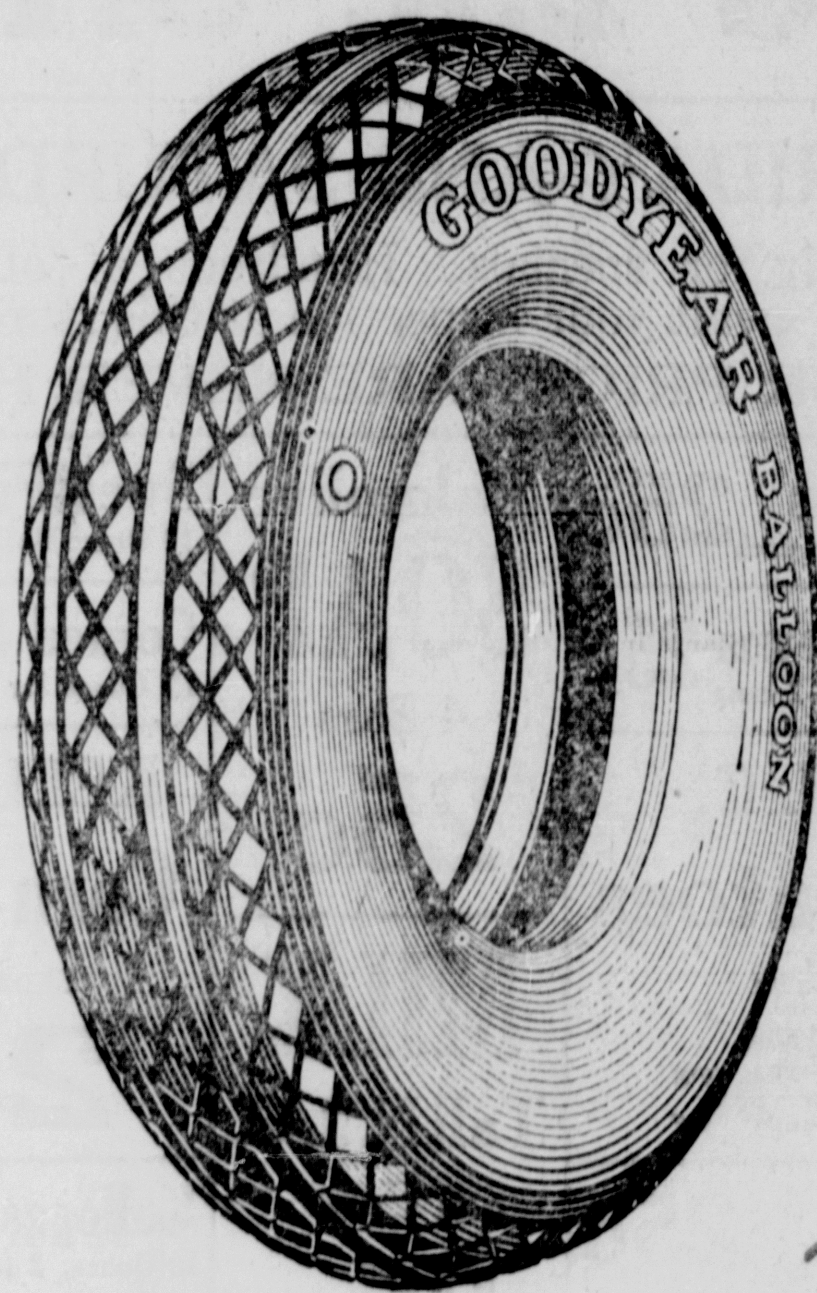

Toledo, O.—Pinch hitting by Casey Stengel, manager of the Mudhens, in the eleventh inning gave Toledo a 10 to 9 victory over Minneapolis. Stengel hit a home run with one on to win the game.

Indianapolis, Ind.—While a crowd displayed its disapproval of Umpire Frank Connolly by hurling seat cushions and pop bottles, Indianapolis and Milwaukee split a double header here. Milwaukee won the first, 7 to 1, and Indianapolis took the second, 7 to 6.

LOU GEHRIG CLOUTS OUT 19TH HOMER

Fenway Park, Boston, June 23.—(UP)—Lou Gehrig, clouting first baseman of the New York Yankees, today hit his 19th home run of the season in the second inning of the game with the Boston Red Sox. The blow was made off Lundgren and scored Ruth ahead of him.

DOROTHY MACKAYE CASE TO THE JURY EARLY NEXT WEEK

NO SESSION OF TRIAL TODAY,
BECAUSE OF CROWDED
CALENDAR

DEFENSE EXPECTED TO REST
TOMORROW, NOW RE-PORTED

Los Angeles, June 23.—(UP)—The case of Dorothy Mackaye, emotional actress on trial charged with concealing the manner of death of her husband, Ray Raymond, may go to the jury early next week, it was believed today.

There was no session of the trial today, because of a crowded calendar in Superior Judge Burnell's court, the case was continued yesterday until tomorrow when the defense is expected to rest.

With much of the emotion which has characterized her performances beyond the footlights, Miss Mackaye related before adjournment how she and Raymond kissed and "made up" after the latter fought with Paul Kelly, young screen actor.

Her husband, she said, was ashamed of his attitude toward the friendship between herself and Kelly, and pleaded with her to give him another chance.

"I told him it was entirely up to him and he said everything would be all right now, so I kissed him," she testified, and tears came into her eyes.

That was in the hospital the night before he died, the widow said. "He regained consciousness for a short time after we made up," she said. They discussed a fishing trip with their baby, Valeria. Miss Mackaye added, and Raymond declared it would "help him get well to think about it."

"I stayed with him until about 3:30 and then went home," the actress testified. "When I got up in the morning the first thing I heard was that he had died."

Miss Mackaye was not questioned regarding her relations with Paul Kelly, her asserted former sweetheart, now waiting a decision on appeal to his conviction of manslaughter in connection with Raymond's death.

Once during the brief examination, however, she was asked about her marriage to Raymond. "Certainly," she answered in a positive tone.

"The Better 'Ole"

Here is entertainment of the first water. A war play with all of the horrors left out and all of the laughs left in. They are the laughs that first resounded around the world when the world got acquainted with Bruce Bainsfather's cartoons and continued through the success of "The Better 'Ole" as a stage play.

Now, on the screen, at the Lyceum with Syd Chaplin giving a memorable performance as Old Bill, "The Better 'Ole" seems more breathlessly funny than ever. By all means see it tonight or Friday.

Chinese Surnames

There is a book published in China giving 100 of the most common and well-known surnames called the "Pa Chia Sing"—i. e., the 100 family surnames. In Dr. Herbert A. Giles' Chinese-English dictionary there is a list of Chinese family names or surnames given. The list comprises over two thousand names.

EXPECT PACT, DEMPSEY-SHARKEY SIGNED SOON

FORMER CHAMPION EMBARKED
TO REGAIN HEAVY-
WEIGHT TITLE

DEMPSEY AND SHARKEY HAVE AGREED ON FIGHT
TERMS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 23.—When a contract binding Jack Dempsey to fight Jack Sharkey in the Yankee stadium on July 21 is signed this afternoon on Tex Rickard's mahogany desk. The former champion will be officially embarked on his attempt to regain the heavyweight title he lost last September to Gene Tunney.

Dempsey and Sharkey have agreed on terms. Dempsey is to get a guarantee of $250,000, to be deposited ten days before the fight, with an option of 25 per cent of the receipts if the gate exceeds $1,000,000. Sharkey has accepted 25 per cent of the receipts, without a guarantee.

With the business arrangements settled, the two fighters had nothing to talk about but the fight.

"I'll win by a knockout in less than 10 rounds," Sharkey said, while he shuffled his feet on the sidewalk outside of the Garden waiting for Dempsey who didn't appear.

Dempsey was closeted with Rickard at his hotel, while a squad of special policemen restrained a crowd. "They tell me Sharkey is a tough fighter," Dempsey said.

Then the former champion told his reason for attempting a comeback.

"I don't need the money," he said, "and I'm not out for glory. But fighting is my business and I don't know any softer way to make big money. I'm going to keep on fighting until I know I'm through. I never have believed I was finished. Just because I made one bad fight—and Lord knows it was a bad one—there is no sign I can't fight any more. Everyone has a bad fight once in a while. My bad fight came in the worst possible spot."

Dempsey doesn't talk about himself as Sharkey does but the former champion certainly has a camp talker in Jerry Luvaldis, better known as "Jerry the Greek," Dempsey's rubber.

"Will he beat Sharkey," Jerry asked. "Say, who is this Sharkey to be fighting the champion? (Jerry still regards his man as the champ.) There was only one Dempsey and there never will be another one. He didn't lose the real title to Tunney. He was only outpointed, wasn't he?"

"Did Dempsey complain before the Tunney fight that he was not well?" Jerry was asked.

"No, he didn't," Jerry replied. "He didn't have to. I knew it. For five nights before the fight I watched him tossing around in his bunk. Process servers were after him. He couldn't move any place for fear of another suit. When we were on the road every time we saw an automobile he had to duck into a cornfield or behind a bush, and that's no way to do road work. He was worried to death all the time. He's himself now, and he won't have any worries this time. Sharkey and Tunney will have the worries."

New York, June 23.—Jack Dempsey this afternoon formally signed contracts to meet Jack Sharkey of Boston at Yankee stadium, New York, July 21, as the first step in his campaign to win back his lost heavyweight boxing title.

Under terms of the agreement Sharkey will receive 22½ per cent of the gross receipts and Dempsey 27½ per cent.

Since Rickard expects more than a million-dollar gate Dempsey probably will be enriched by around $300,000 for re-entering the ring.

The articles were signed on the roof of Madison Square Garden the fighters and the promoters selecting the outdoors both because of the intense heat inside and the fact that photographers could work better in natural light.

Camera men gathered around and snapped their shutters frequently as the heavyweights affixed their signatures.

Dempsey will leave tonight for his training camp at Saratoga. Sharkey plans to go to Nova Scotia. He told newspapermen he needed but little training as a series of fights through the winter had kept him in good condition.

"I feel fine, too," Dempsey said.

"Pickup" for Collector

After reposing for many weeks in the window of a shop in Bristol, England, an old blue-and-white ginger jar, which many collectors examined and refused to buy, was finally sold by the dealer, for $3. The purchaser disposed of it to Louis Huth, at the sale of whose collection it brought $20,000. It is one of the "rarest hawthorne jars in existence."

OVER GRAND BANKS

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 23.—(UP)—Commander Richard Byrd's flight to Paris, like the trans-Atlantic journeys of Charles Lindbergh and Clarence Chamberlin, will be a week-end trip, it appeared today as fog, low temperatures and winds over the Grand Banks and eastward across the sea held the monoplane America to the ground.

The weather bureau reported only one chance in ten that the storms would end in time for a take-off tomorrow. It was believed, however, that flying conditions may be good by Saturday.

Commander Byrd was understood to have abandoned his plan to leave at night instead of at dawn.

Byrd received a master of arts degree from Yale University at commencement exercises at New Haven yesterday.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS-- ABOUT FLOWERS

By HEDDA HOYT
New York, June 23.—(UP)—With the coming of Summer, flowers have taken possession of the Fashion World. They need not be real to be fashionable these days since real flowers, with the exception of orchids and violets, are seldom worn whereas everyone wears artificial flowers of some sort.

During the early Spring large realistic cysanthemum corsages were the center of attraction. At present, the corsage is smartest when it looks thoroughly artificial. Thus we find the flowered chiffon frock matched by a flowered chiffon flower of huge dimension. The petals are made by cutting the chiffon in narrow strips and joining them at the center. Plain colored frocks usually have flowers of self-material or harmonizing ombre effects.

For the sports frock we have felt, crocheted and leather flowers. Bouquets of vari-colored crocheted flowers are smart on shoulders of striped sweaters as each flower represents a shade in the sweater. Felt flowers in tiny bouquets representing Spring posies are smart upon the sports coat. Leather flowers usually match the leather hat and shoes.

Among the realistic corsage the most popular flowers are white or purple violets. One also sees crushed roses and tiny bunches of cornflowers or field flowers. For the bathing ensemble we suggest the rubberized flowers which can be worn on the shoulder of the suit or beach coat. Flowers should not be worn on the bathing cap this year as the smartest cap one can wear is the simple rubber swimming cap with or without a chin strap. A piece of satin or a bandana can be worn around this if one wishes.

Artificial flowers have established a stronghold even in the home. What can be more artistic than the little jewel trees or jade trees as they are sometimes called? These usually come in pairs, the pots being cloisene and the flowers being made of semi-precious stones such as amethyst, jade, coral, turquoise, carnelian, crystal, etc. These trees last forever and one can always find a place for them upon a mantel, table or desk. When mounted and made into lamps they are like little jewel gardens; glowing bits of transparent jewels which add a gay note to any living room.

Less costly than jewel trees are little pots of glass flowers which can be fashioned at home. A bowl or receptacle of some pretty coloring is filled with sand and the glass flowers are stuck in the sand having the appearance of growing there. Flowers may be waxed rather than glass if one wishes.

EXPECT PACT, DEMPSEY-SHARKEY SIGNED SOON

FORMER CHAMPION EMBARKED
TO REGAIN HEAVY-
WEIGHT TITLE

DEMPSEY AND SHARKEY HAVE AGREED ON FIGHT
TERMS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 23.—When a contract binding Jack Dempsey to fight Jack Sharkey in the Yankee stadium on July 21 is signed this afternoon on Tex Rickard's mahogany desk, the former champion will be officially embarked on his attempt to regain the heavyweight title he lost last September to Gene Tunney.

Dempsey and Sharkey have agreed on terms. Dempsey is to get a guarantee of $250,000, to be deposited ten days before the fight, with an option of 25 per cent of the receipts if the gate exceeds $1,000,000. Sharkey has accepted 25 per cent of the receipts, without a guarantee.

With the business arrangements settled, the two fighters had nothing to talk about but the fight.

"I'll win by a knockout in less than 10 rounds," Sharkey said, while he shuffled his feet on the sidewalk outside of the Garden waiting for Dempsey who didn't appear.

Dempsey was closeted with Rickard at his hotel, while a squad of special policemen restrained a crowd.

"They tell me Sharkey is a tough fighter," Dempsey said.

Then the former champion told his reason for attempting a comeback.

"I don't need the money," he said, "and I'm not out for glory. But fighting is my business and I don't know any softer way to make big money. I'm going to keep on fighting until I know I'm through. I never have believed I was finished. Just because I made one bad fight—and Lord knows it was a bad one—is no sign I can't fight any more. Everyone has a bad fight once in a while. My bad fight came in the worst possible spot."

Dempsey doesn't talk about himself as Sharkey does but the former champion certainly has a camp talker in Jerry Luvadis, better known as "Jerry the Greek," Dempsey's rubber.

"Will he beat Sharkey," Jerry asked. "Say, who is this Sharkey to be fighting the champion? (Jerry still regards his man as the champ). There never will be another one. He didn't lose the real title to Tunney. He was only outpointed, wasn't he?"

"Did Dempsey complain before the Tunney fight that he was not well?" Jerry was asked.

"No, he didn't," Jerry replied. "He didn't have to. I knew it. For five nights before the fight I watched him tossing around in his bunk. Process servers were after him. He couldn't move any place for fear of another suit. When we were on the road every time we saw an automobile he had to duck into a cornfield or behind a bush, and that's no way to do road work. He was worried to death all the time. He's himself now, and he won't have any worries this time. Sharkey and Tunney will have the worries."

New York, June 23.—Jack Dempsey this afternoon formally signed contracts to meet Jack Sharkey of Boston at Yankee stadium, New York, July 21, as the first step in his campaign to win back his lost heavyweight boxing title.

Under terms of the agreement Sharkey will receive 22½ per cent of the gross receipts and Dempsey 27½ per cent.

Since Rickard expects more than a million-dollar gate Dempsey probably will be enriched by around $300,000 for re-entering the ring.

The articles were signed on the roof of Madison Square Garden the fighters and the promoters selecting the outdoors both because of the intense heat inside and the fact that photographers could work better in natural light.

Camera men gathered around and snapped their shutters frequently as the heavyweights affixed their signatures.

Dempsey will leave tonight for his training camp at Saratoga. Sharkey plans to go to Nova Scotia. He told newspapermen he needed but little training as a series of fights through the winter had kept him in good condition.

"I feel fine, too," Dempsey said.

"Pickup" for Collector

After reposing for many weeks in the window of a shop in Bristol, England, an old blue-and-white ginger jar, which many collectors examined and refused to buy, was finally sold by the dealer, for $3. The purchaser disposed of it to Louis Huth, at the sale of whose collection it brought $29,000. It is one of the "rarest hawthorne jars in existence."

FOG AND LOW TEMPERATURES,

OVER GRAND BANKS

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 23.—(UP)—Commander Richard Byrd's flight to Paris, like the trans-Atlantic journeys of Charles Lindbergh and Clarence Chamberlin, will be a week-end trip, it appeared today as fog, low temperatures and winds over the Grand Banks and eastward across the sea held the monoplane America to the ground.

The weather bureau reported only one chance in ten that the storms would end in time for a take-off tomorrow. It was believed, however, that flying conditions may be good by Saturday.

Commander Byrd was understood to have abandoned his plan to leave at night instead of at dawn.

Byrd received a master of arts degree from Yale University at commencement exercises at New Haven yesterday.
